Deep Thoughts

by Rex Andy

Fall saw a flurry of events around the Thanksgiving holiday, with the "Tricky Trail Mix" mass start score course at Santa Teresa capturing the most hullabaloo. Newcomers and vets enjoyed the challenge of earning the most points. A break in the rain framed the Wild Turkey Chase at Middle Harbor, and the unpredictable chaos of the Bingo course provided good fun!

Represent the Bay Area

3 more maps brings the total to 6; Bishop Ranch and Santa Teresa are somewhat experimental and unfinished, with unsubtle 40 foot contours. Middle Harbor is my favorite map to date. What's next?

Icy Hot Gossip

Nancy Lindeman made herself big when she probably saw a mountain lion in the grass at the Morgan Territory training. It also helps to make noise! Be safe out there... I'm taking suggestions for Spring flings! Parks and formats. Looking to do a street / park event in the Berkeley hills, which are peppered with secret staircases and parks like Codornices and Indian Rock... terraloco has bid for the U.S. sprint orienteering finals in the fall in San Francisco on 3 new maps, wish me luck! ... Happy holidays, and all the best in 2009!
