

terralocotidbits...

Surf the Outernet! • March, 2009 • rex@terraloco.com

Indian Rock, Berkeley Hills

Spring Things

3/22 BAOC Berkeley Hills Score course, Fleet Feet

Tentative - stay tuned!

4/11 Miller Knox Regional Shoreline, Richmond

4/25 Ben Legg's training weekend, Red Bluff

The Berkeley event is free, new map by me, and Fleet Feet gives you goodies and a 10% discount on shoes and stuff.

I'm planning on a sprint counting for the BAOC and North American sprint series at Miller Knox, with recreational courses too, and an "Egg-O" around the lagoon.

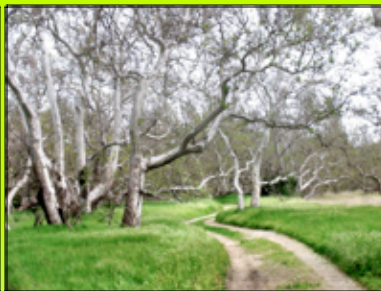

Deep Thoughts

by Rex Andy

Teaching is wonderful! I miss putting on events - wish I could have had one in February. I'm expecting summer to be busy, and I aim to start a fun, informal series of weekday evening training sessions. The sun sets later each day now... permitting is continuing for the North American sprint finals venues - now we have to make the maps! Nov. 7 to 15, <http://3g.terraloco.com>

Represent the Bay Area

I want to make some more maps for upcoming events! Cast your vote: which do you want mapped?

1. Guadalupe River Park, San Jose; 2. Sycamore Grove, Livermore; 3. Coyote Point, San Mateo

Icy Hot Gossip

Magnus Johansson, Canadian national team coach and mapper extraordinaire, has joined U.S. team member Eric Bone (MerGeo) and Ben Legg as trainers and course setters for the sprint training week Nov. 9 to 13... Ben Legg is planning a training weekend April 25 on his Red Bluff map, which he has expanded. The training exercises, orienteering courses, camping, and group camaraderie should be fun - they had a blast last year! Gently undulating terrain, runnable oak forest, and river views!